

Wedding Photo Of Ferenc And Szeren Oblath

This is Ferenc Oblath, Uncle Feri, one of my mother's brothers and his wife, Szeren. This is their wedding picture. They never had any children and I know almost nothing about them. Uncle Feri was the 'Co.' in the Zsigmond Kertész and Co. grocery shop. They died in the war, by the time I arrived home, [from the deportation] they were already dead. Somebody told me that Szeren was among the Jews who were driven from the Yellow Star Houses to the Danube and shot into the river. I don't know where Uncle Feri went, just like with my Dad. Uncle Feri must have been drafted into forced labor- because he must have been the same age as my Dad.
